

Biography

Mr. Lane D. Collie

Director, Logistics & Readiness Center
CECOM, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland

Mr. Lane Collie serves as the Director of the Logistics and Readiness Center (LRC). As senior leader of the Communications Electronics Command (CECOM) LRC, he oversees a global organization of more than 2,000 employees through management of its nine directorates. These directorates support national inventory control point, national maintenance point, security assistance to allied nations, production and industrial base management and planning, integrated logistics planning, and field technical assistance. These organizations encompass over 20 countries and 100 plus sites.

Mr. Collie earned a bachelor's degree in Math and Physics from Augustana College and a master's degree from Monmouth University in 1994. He furthered his postgraduate education to gain a Master of Science degree in National Security Strategy from the National War College at Fort McNair in 2006.

Mr. Collie's first assignment in the Senior Executive Service was in 2007 as the Principal Deputy G-3 for Operations, a position he held in addition to his role as Executive Deputy for Supply Chain and Industrial Operations with the AMC in Fort Belvoir, VA. In this capacity he exercised leadership and policy responsibility for integrated logistics support planning and supply chain operations across the Army Materiel Command enterprise.

He began his career as an equipment specialist for the Ground Support Equipment Aviation System Command in Saint Louis, MO. Next, he moved to the Communications Electronics Command, Fort Monmouth, NJ, first working as an Integrated Logistics Support Manager (ILSM) for Project Manager Firefinder and later as an ILSM and Project Leader for Program Manager Tactical Endurance Synthetic Aperture Radar. He left Fort Monmouth to serve as a Logistics Staff Action Officer in Maintenance Policy for the Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics, G-4, at the Headquarters of the Department of the Army, in Washington, D.C.

Mr. Collie then relocated to the 21st Theater Support Command in Kaiserslautern, Germany as the Theater Sustainment Maintenance Manager in the National Program Office. He returned to the U.S. as a Team Leader for National Maintenance Program and Plans for the Army Materiel Command (AMC) in Fort Belvoir, VA. Remaining with the AMC, he became Chief of the National Maintenance Division for Deputy G3 Support Operations. He served as Director of Supply Chain Integration in the Office of the Secretary of Defense in Washington, D.C. before being selected to the Senior Executive Service.